

An opportunity to study in London

The London School of Hygiene & Tropical Medicine and the China Medical Board are pleased to offer masters scholarship opportunities in a variety of disciplines.

The Health Policy & Systems Science Programme (HPSS) will appeal to students with an interest in earning a masters degree in several eligible fields of public health with a unique focus on enhancing skills related to health policy and health systems.

Successful applicants will receive support for their travel and living expenses, as well as free tuition at the London School of Hygiene & Tropical Medicine (LSHTM).

In order to qualify students must:

- Be affiliated to, or have graduated from, one of our partner universities (Peking University, Sichuan University, Kunming University);
- Have an excellent academic record;
- Be able to pass the English language requirements of LSHTM.

Application deadline : 13 December 2013.
